Public Safety Leadership Development

BUILT IN PARTNERSHIP WITH MULTIPLE PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICES

PROGRAM DATES: SEPTEMBER 23-25; OCTOBER 15; NOVEMBER 4, 2020

The primary objective of the Daniels College of Business Public Safety Leadership Development program is to further develop public safety emerging leaders in our local communities. Participants will gain insight into their personal style, capabilities, strengths, and weaknesses and in turn understand their team's capabilities, strengths, and weaknesses. Emphasis will be placed on developing leaders and understanding team dynamics. Collaboratively built in 2008 and fine-tuned by input from multiple agencies, this program combines world-class faculty with personal assessments, leadership exercises, analytical assignments, and challenging activities to provide a life-changing experience. The PSLD program was reviewed by the Colorado Peace Officer Standards and Training Office and there are funding options available for small and remote agencies through POST.

DANIELS COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Through Executive Education, the Daniels College of Business partners with leading Colorado organizations to build the most innovative leadership programs for their executives and emerging leaders. With a commitment to relevance as our guide, programs are tailored to the specific needs, culture, and strategy of the organization. We are committed to providing relevant, life-changing educational experiences to further develop extraordinary leaders within our Colorado communities.

ACCELERATING POTENTIAL & PERFORMANCE

COURSE INFORMATION

FALL 2020

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

We recognize that time is a most valuable resource; therefore this program is highly concentrated. The program compresses the very best content and resources into five days.

The first session will be held off-site at The Nature Place where participants will be removed from their day to day lives and immersed in the program. This offsite session allows for participants to engage in team building, classroom experiences, and networking opportunities. The Nature Place is a comfortable mountain retreat and conference center located on a 6,000 acre privately owned ranch, one hour west of Colorado Springs. Visit www.thenatureplace.net for more information.

The next two sessions are in-person and include both individual classroom participation and group/team work. The dates and assignments are strategically spaced to allow participants to apply what they have learned and to return to the team with stories of success and insightful questions, further customizing the program as it progresses. The final session includes a graduation ceremony where supervisors and leadership teams are invited to attend. Sessions 2 and 3 will be held at the Daniels College of Business on the University of Denver campus.

This truly was the best leadership program I have been through (and I've been to quite a few) and I know each of you put a lot of time and effort into making it as valuable as it can be for the participants.
