Leadership Training & Development Opportunity

The Rocky Mountain Command College (RMCC) is an exciting opportunity for law enforcement executives and leaders of all levels to discover information about emerging issues and recent developments influencing law enforcement throughout Colorado and Wyoming. RMCC is a 40-hour training and networking opportunity with speakers consisting of experts from the law enforcement field and the private sector, as well as peer learning opportunities. Topics include, but not limited to:

- ◆ Leadership
- ◆ Officer Involved Shooting Response
- ◆ Crisis Management
- ◆ Stress Management & Wellness
- ◆ Counter-Extremism
- ◆ Case Studies

Selection of Attendees

This training event is geared toward law enforcement leaders who can then benefit their teams. Leaders of small departments are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity but agencies of all sizes are welcome. The minimum rank to attend is Corporal (or equivalent) in leadership position. Those without direct reports may be admitted if space available.
